Have you revisited your sprinkler timer?

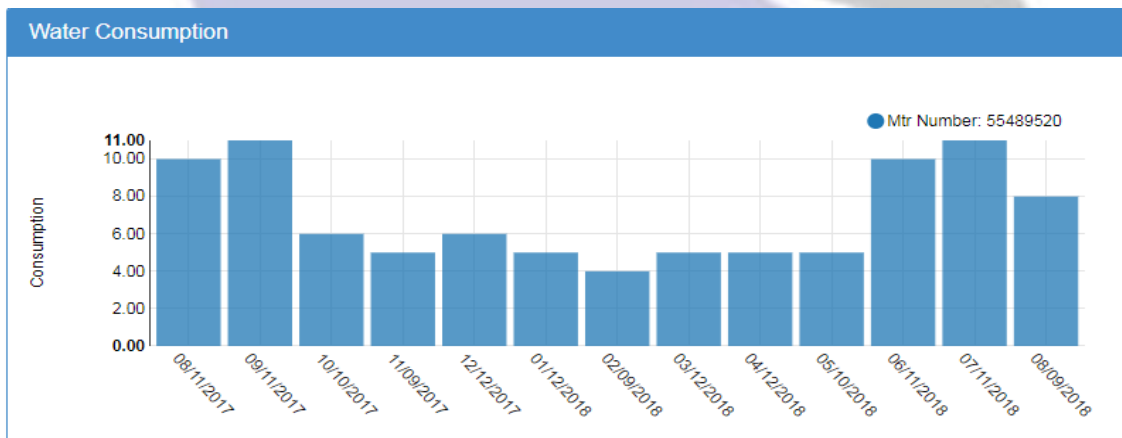

Do you have an automatic sprinkler system? Did you “set and forget” the watering times back in April or May? If so, now is a great time to revisit your timer settings. As temperatures begin to cool, your lawn needs less water to stay healthy. The following table provides some guidelines on adjusting your system times.

Watering Months	Minutes to water per zone (for lawns, based on three days per week*)
	 Fixed spray heads	 Rotor heads	 Rotary/high-efficiency nozzles†	 Manual sprinklers
January – April	Water trees and shrubs as needed.
May	12	24	30	18
June	17	35	43	26
July	18	36	45	27
August	14	27	34	20
September	11	23	28	17
October – December	Water trees and shrubs as needed.

System Renewal and Replacement

Ageing infrastructure is a concern across the nation. After the second world war, there was a massive boom in infrastructure investment which continued into the 1960's. Infrastructure projects during this period included transportation (highways, roads, bridges, rail lines), schools, parks, bridges, power, drinking water and wastewater systems. As these systems reach the end of their service life, they will require a substantial investment in renewal and replacement.

At Bancroft-Clover, approximately half of our system is 50 or more years old. As part of our capital plan, we replace a portion of our system each year. In August, we completed lining of over 3,000 feet of wastewater main. In coming years, we will also begin the replacement of our water system.
